

Empowering children in care to own their stories forever

Storyteller is a place where content can be collated and curated for, with and by children in care. Anyone important to the child can upload images, record videos and audio voice clips plus write or dictate personal letters, for the child at the centre to own forever.

As children in care can often be looked after by different people throughout their childhood, as they grow older they may find it challenging to form and retain strong memories, which can be detrimental to their mental health, self-confidence and sense of identity.

EDGE

The app will benefit children in care by:

- supporting therapeutic life story work
- capturing moments from their life for their care record
- helping the child or young person to convey their wishes and feelings
- preparing them during transitions, such as moving to a new home
- helping them, and the adult they become, to claim their own story and narrative.

We are looking for organisations to pilot Storyteller

Piloting the app will give your children, staff and carers early access to a valuable tool that will make a huge difference to your children in care.

In addition, it will give your organisation the opportunity to influence the development of the app, to meet the needs of your children.

Your organisation will also be offered a discounted license fee once the pilot is complete.
